In a world where 90% of American adults own a cell phone, Portland Public Schools is excited to launch a multi-year initiative to shift family and staff communication to mobile devices.

“Mobile First” also gives families school news the way they want to receive it. A majority of PPS families said in the Successful Schools Survey they want school news electronically.

Mobile First also will provide families, including historically underserved families who may not own home computers, instant access to emergency alerts, weather closures, and school news.

You will hear more about Mobile First soon. But first: Want to receive fast, accurate information about emergencies and important district events — as they happen? Text YES to 68453 to opt in now to receive SMS text messages.
